is given by using Brown's Iron Bitters. In the Winter it strengthens and warms the system; in the Spring it enriches the blood and conquers disease; in the Summer it gives tone to the nerves and digestive organs; in the Fall it enables the system to stand the shock of sudden changes.

In no way can disease be so surely prevented as by keeping the system in per-fect condition. Brown's Iron Bitters ensures perfect health through the changing seasons, it disarms the danger from impure water and miasmatic air, and it prevents Consumption, Kidney and Liver Disease, &c.

H. S. Berlin, Esq., of the well-known firm of H. S. Berlin & Co., Attorneys, Le Droit Building, Washington, D. C., writes, Dec. 5th, Fuil Details of Their Capture-A Utah Sheriff Tells the Story-A Wearisome Trip-Desperation of Two of the Bandits - Arrival of Reinforcements-Advance on the Stockade-Final Surrender of the Remainder of the Gang.

[EPHCIAL BY TELEGRAPH TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

SALT LAKE, January 31st .- Sheriff Turner, of Prove, who had charge of the party which captured the Central Pacific train robbers, gives the following statement to-day: On Friday, Mr. Thacker, detective officer of Wells, Fargo & Co., and myself met at Provo on the 4:30 P. M. train, en route for Deseret. We there joined Sheriff John Gillespie, of Tooele county, who had been lying there four days. We held a consultation, having already learned that the robbers were camped in the mountain about fifty did. Thacker telegraphed Dooley, of Salt Lake, for long-range guns and a field glass. I telegraphed for Deputy Sheriff Fowler, of Utah county, to join us at Deseret, and at 1.30 Sunday morning we started. At 4:30 Sunday afternoon, as we were riding across commander of the company, and being in the lead, on making the discovery I beckened to the balance of my party in the rear. They came up immediately. We hitched our horses, and left two of the party as a guard to the animals. We went on foot in the pursuit of the men we had sighted, and grieg to the brown of the hill in front of the going to the brow of the hill in front of us, about 500 or 600 feet high and a distance of 150 to 175 yards, we obtained a full view of them. I ordered them to halt and throw up their hands, at the same time commanding mediately afterwards on his left side, and landed on a Winchester gun which hung yesterday by Judge Templo to fifteen years' imprisonment in San Quentin. on the side of the saddle. Firing was still Killed by a Falling Tree-Woman Fatally the cedar boughs over our heads. One bullet the cedar boughs over our heads. One bullet passed near the heads of Wise Cropper and Thomas Fowler, and one passed between Thacker and myself, while we were standing about six feet apart. About this time Nay thraw up his hands and apparently surrendered, and the firing ceased. Hawley ran to the opposite side of the hollow and laid in a small ravine. We then fired several shots in the direction of the ambuscade where he lay. Nay then fired another shot, but seeing that small ravine. We then fired several shots in the direction of the ambuscade where he lay. Nay then fired another shot, but seeing that resistance was useless he notified us that he was badly wounded, and was wilking to surrender. He also notified us that Hawley was shot and wounded. I called to Nay to tell Hawley to lay down his arms. He said he was so badly wounded that he could not get to him; but I told him he had to do it, and he startistic of the direction of the town, consisting of eight buildings. The loss will approximate $6,000. The stock was principally saved. ed in the direction of Hawley. He got half way to him, and we saw Hawley throw his gun away. We advanced towards them, and on reaching them found Hawley shot through the leg. We also found that Nay was shot in the right shoulder, and also received a flesh wound through the leg. We picked them up and gathered all the saddle blankets we had in camp for a bed. Our baggage-wagon was seven miles away, over a rough country, but we immediately sent Black for the wagor, and he returned about 9 o'clock that evening. We splintered Hawley's leg, and rendered all possible assistance to the wounded men, and having put them in a wagon we sent them back with Black, George Boyd and Joseph Smith to Deseret. Having no provisions for ourselves or animals and leaving the control of t mals, and learning of the camp of the two

Smith boys at Fish Springs, we proceeded thither, and the boys furnished us with oats for our horses and something for ourselves to eat. This place was two miles to the north of the scene of the capture, and across a ough country. We built a camp fire, and at 2:30 Monday morning had our horses saddled n readiness to march on to the stockade. ARRIVAL OF REINFORCEMENTS.

and Deputy Sheriff Polk and party were seen riding in the direction of our camp fire at a distance of 200 yards. I immediately twenty-four hour. stepped out and notified them that I was Sheriff Turner. Sheriff Brown recognized my voice, and joined our party. These gentlemen were all on their way to the point to which we were going. After consulta-tion, I told the party that we had decided upon plans, which I made them acquainted with, and these plans were adopted for future operations, the two parties to go together. I had already pro-cured a guide, and the entire party proceeded to the stockade. At daylight Monday morn-ing our guide took a note to the stockade, notifying the robbers that their hiding-place was surrounded, but that the officers did not intend to hurt them if they would surrender peaceably. The note was written by us after he two wounded men had begged of us not to hurt the men up in the stockade, and the note begged of the men to surrender, as they were surrounded, and recited the fact that Nay and Hawley were wounded. The two men signed the note. I sent two of my men

TRUCKEE, January 31st .- The greatest exmiles to the northwest of Deseret, in Millard county, Utah. On Saturday morning we called upon Joseph S. Black, of Deseret, te know if he could furnish us with a baggage wagon and saddle horses, which he lissued for them. The principal one, Ah Yee, has been arrested, and made admissions sufficient to the whole cient to fix the responsibility of the whole crime. He says that while he did not do any of the chopping, he held the candle for the others. A long interview took place to day in the presence of two Chinese interpreters, Sunday afternoon, as we were riding across the hills for the purpose of ascertaining the direct route to

THE STOCKADE OF THE ROBBERS,
Located in Antelope mountair, we discovered two men, armed and mounted, making in the direction of the stockade. At breakfast on Sunday morning the party had elected me summander of the company and hairs in the presence of two Chinese interpreters, but nothing of the details was ascertained. Ah Yee is sufficiently protected by the authorities to prevent lynoising, although it would need but a spark added to the feeling now existing against the Chinamen to take him from the juil and string him up. The parties so far accused are Ah Shune, Ah Loy, Ah Quok, Ah Gee and Ah Gee, already arrested. All will doubtlets be in custody to morrow, and an examination will then be held; but there appears no manner of doubt that the parties for whom the warrants are issued are the guilty ones. The talk of lynching still continues, but the known resolution of the officers in charge of the prisoners will cloubtless prevent any trouble. The jail is well guarded, and no feers are held but that the law will be allowed to take its course.

Vrooman introduced a bill to amend several sections of the Folitical Code, and to repeal other sections, relating to the public schools. The bill is a big one, being carefully drawn in conformity with the suggestions made by ex-Superintenden of Public Instruction Campbell in his biennial report. He also introduced a bill relative to fees chargeable to estates in the hands of the Public Administrator. It allows the Court to remit the fees and save the Public Administrator from paving the fees out of his own pocket when the estate is found to be bankrupt.

Fireside Shopping.

Surprising as has been the growth in recent years of the system of shopping by mail, it is yet destined to a much greater degree of usefulness.

Scattered over the coast are thousands of people, with a high knowledge of appropriateness in dress, and a thorough understanding of the value and worth of goods; and, yet, who chancing to live in the small towns and by-places, are confined in their selection of goods to the small assortment and high prices of the country dealers. Thus, it is sure to happen in the near future that a due regard for economy, as well as the desire for better and more fashionable goods, will cause such people-unless they have already done so-to transfer a large part of their trade from country to city merchants.

The important question with those who have never tested the convenience and superiority of this system of trade is-Where to send? Having made the filling of country orders an important feature in this Establishment, and believing that it possesses decided advantages, we propose to note briefly some of the points in the business of special interest to out-of-town customers:

FIRST—This Establishment is the largest collection of general merchandise on the coast. It is, therefore, reasonable to believe that it stands first in low prices and varied assortment.

SECOND—On its shelves will be found everything needed to clothe the human form, besides many things of personal and household use. Anything which is not kept will be got as an accommoda-

THIRD—The location of this store in Central California places it in quick, easy and direct connection with nearly every part of the coast. It is almost invariably saving in time and forwarding charges to send to us.

FOURTH—A Catalogue of 128 pages, and with over 800 illustrations, is sent free on application. It gives the most explicit information about goods. Samples of Domestics, Dress Goods, Laces, etc., are also sent free, marked with the price per yard, and the exact width of the goods.

FIFTH—Out-of-town customers get the same goods and same prices that they would if they stood at our counters.

SIXTH—Any goods not as ordered may be returned at our expense.

SEVENTH—Our own interest prompts us to fill every order to the very best of our taste and ability. We do not know but that the smallest order may be a test one, and if filled satisfactorily be the forerunner of many more to come. If you have never dealt in this way, send your name and address on a postal card for Price List, together with any samples desired.

SOMETHING NEW IN THE WAY OF ELEC-TIONS. - The Chico Record of January 29th furnishes the following:

MANHOOD Yesterday the Indians on Rancho Chico had lively sport in their "sweat-house."
A large crowd of people from town witnessed the dancing. The Diggers kept up their horrid yells until late in the night. This "sweat house" is built in the shape of a hill, or mound, an entrance being had from a hole in the top. It is built of heavy KHOW THYSELF. lumber covered with dirt. The air inside is almost stiffing, but the Indians stay in the house for several hours. The occasion Young, Middle-aged and Old. of the demonstration yesterday was the The untold miseries that result from indiscretion nearly life may be alleviated and cured. It is not a graceful, gliding waltz, but is something after the style of a "Highland Fling," the Indians jumping and kicking until a person would think they would jerk their limbs off. The man who can stand this work the longest is the beet man, and is elected. Yesterday the fun commenced in the forenoon, and was not finished until midnight. The jumpers gave out several times, and had to be rubbed and bathed by their friends, and finally one of the bucks quit, saying he had all he could stand.
